EndNote

Jeff Clark - 2025-06-12 - Software

EndNote Web Basic
(free to FAU students, faculty & staff)

As of 2025:

EndNote is now available for our students, faculty and staff:

https://library.fau.edu/information-technology/software-availability/endnote

The packages are available for Windows and Mac and can be installed on personal computers (as well as FAU computers). Please encourage your students and faculty. This was a tech-fee funded grant courtesy of the College of Engineering and the Graduate College for 3 years.

Prior to 2025:

Through the FAU Libraries' subscription to Web of Science, FAU students, faculty and staff have FREE access to EndNote Web Basic. For access:

- Go to Web of Science database.
- Sign in at the top right side of the page (or register for a free account)
- Click on "My Tools" at the top right side of the page and choose "EndNote."

EndNote 20 is available for a fee and is the full-featured version of EndNote. A 30-day free trial is also available for these upgraded versions of EndNote.
